Creating Memorable Moments for Every Guest, Every Time

A hand is shown typing on a laptop keyboard. The laptop screen displays a golf simulation software interface with various fields and buttons. The MSI logo is visible on the bottom bezel of the laptop. The background is a blurred outdoor scene with greenery and a person in a blue shirt.

A photograph of two male golfers on a lush green golf course under a blue sky with scattered clouds. The golfer in the foreground is captured in the middle of a golf swing, wearing a grey and white striped polo shirt, dark shorts, and a grey baseball cap. A second golfer stands behind him, observing. To the left, a black launch monitor is partially visible, with the word 'FLYMAN' printed on its side. Overlaid on the image are several white motion analysis lines: a large arc around the golfer's torso and arms, and a smaller arc around the golf club head. The text 'BEST-IN-CLASS ACCURACY' is superimposed in the center, with 'BEST-IN-CLASS' in white and 'ACCURACY' in orange.

BEST-IN-CLASS ACCURACY

The unit can be positioned safely behind the player because it "sees" through and around the club.

THE ULTIMATE GOLF TOURNAMENT EXPERIENCE

Powered by the best radar technology in the golf industry, DiGS provides PGA-level on the course video, swing and ball flight analysis that doesn't slow down pace of play. Each golfer plays the hole as normal and receives carry distance, estimated total distance, ball speed and club speed in a matter of seconds. The same technology is used by CBS, NBC, and FOX to enhance the viewer experience for golf on television. When golfers arrive to our tee box, they feel like they're playing in a PGA TOUR Event!

Each player receives a report with the following information:

- › 2 videos of their swing compared to a tour pro
- › 9 key data parameters of their swing and ball flight

ABOUT TRACKMAN

Ever wondered how pro golfers get so good without dragging a coach around with them everywhere? The answer likely lies with Trackman 4. As the name suggests it's the high-end tracking unit that top players use to analyze every aspect of their game. You can compare your swing side by side to the pros. Using two radars and one camera, this bad boy eats data for breakfast and spits out an analysis of your game so thoroughly, you'll feel like challenging Phil Mickelson by the time it's through.

With data at our disposal, raise the stakes at your tournament by adding pay-to-play contests like longest drive, guess your distance or guess your swing speed. We provide everything needed for a successful event, labor, equipment, and power.

ABOUT US

How's this for the perfect golf cocktail? Mix one part PGA grade golf technology, one part next level customer service and professionalism and one part extreme fun. Do that and you'll end up with an irresistible and unforgettable DiGS golfing experience, custom made to cater to any indoor or outdoor event you have in mind.

Our passion for golf is infectious and even you or your guests are novices or only spectators, we guarantee to have you swinging and smiling by time you hand back your clubs. In fact, by the time we're done, you might want to invest in a set of your own.
